

Erasmus+ 2016

Bordeaux-France.

If I wanted to talk about my two months experience in France, there would be a great big list of things to tell.

I was there with a friend of mine from my school, the only other Italian beyond me.

At the beginning, I cannot hide that it was a little difficult: knowing other people, changing my habits and speaking French all the time

I really like French and France too; in fact this experience was a great opportunity for me to improve the language.

It was also very difficult to adapt myself to the people who live there that, normally, are really different from us.

With the time, all became easier, I knew a lot of people there, I have new friends now and I still keep contact with them!

From the first day to the last, the host family has always been very good with me! I really loved having a big family and now I have two brothers and a sister abroad.

I will never forget them, the way they took care of me. It was incredible!

It is like a second family, for all that we shared and for all that they did for me.

I really improved my French there, also because I went to school and when I was there, I was forced to talk French to communicate with the others.

I learned new words and a lot of typical French expressions that are used in the spoken language.

I also had fun with my corresponding French sister, we went to parties and we visited Bordeaux, the big city next our village.

I really enjoyed the city, it is big, quiet and pleasant.

I took lots of photos and I have lots of memories in my gallery, some landscapes are really wonderful!

I also visited lots of places with the whole family.

We went to the beach, in a little summer village perfect for tourists.

We also went to the bigger sand dune of Europe and it was great get to the top!

I saw the entire landscape of the ocean from above

In conclusion, I cannot say anything else about my experience, I just can repeat that everything was magical and also that I would try the same experience for other 100 times.

I will also suggest everyone this kind of experiences because there is nothing more beautiful in life.
